AUDELIA SANTIAGO, an Individual

MOTION FOR STAY

Respondent, Tinley Park Hotel and Convention Center, LLC (“Tinley Park”), by its attorneys, Laura A. Balson and Brianna L. Golan of Golan Christie Taglia LLP, hereby moves for a stay of the National Labor Relations Board (“NLRB”)’s January 8, 2019 Decision and Order (the “Order”), and in support states as follows:

1. On November 25, 2014, Audelia Santiago filed a charge against Tinley Park before the NLRB, alleging that Santiago’s employment was terminated for engaging in protected concerted activity.
2. After a hearing, the NLRB issued its ruling on June 16, 2015, and found in favor of Santiago. Both the NLRB’s General Counsel and Tinley Park filed exceptions to this ruling.
3. On January 8, 2019, Chairman Ring and Members McFerran and Emanuel issued the Order, which affirmed the prior ruling.
4. Under the Order, Tinley Park is to take certain affirmative actions within fourteen (14) days of the issuance of the Order.
5. On January 17, 2019, Tinley Park filed a Petition to Review the Decision with the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit (the “Appeal”).
6. Pursuant to 29 U.S.C. §160(g), the commencement of the appeal does not operate as a stay of the Order.

7. Therefore, Tinley Park respectfully requests that the NLRB stay the enforcement of the Order pending a ruling on the Appeal.

WHEREFORE, Tinley Park Hotel and Convention Center respectfully request that this Honorable Board enter an order:

- A. staying the enforcement of the Decision and Order entered on January 8, 2019, pending a ruling by the Appellate Court on the appeal filed by Tinley Park; and;
- B. granting any further and additional relief that may be appropriate and just.

Dated: February 13, 2019

Respectfully submitted,

By

Laura A. Balson, Esq.
